

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF COMMUNITY HEALTH CENTERS®

The model for what we call Community Health Centers was started by a group of health care providers and community organizers that met each other while participating in civil rights activism in the early 1960's. From the beginning, they envisioned a model of health care that not only diagnosed patients and prescribed treatment, but also addressed socio-economic drivers of health and mobilized community engagement. Importantly, the health center would be planned with patients, not just for them by so-called experts. Health centers carry on the legacy of our founders and endure, thanks to decades of advocacy, dedication and strong bipartisan support.

NACHC expresses deep gratitude to the many generations of health center staff, volunteer board members, patients and community partners who have, and continue to contribute to the improved health and well-being of communities across the country.
The Health Center Movement remains strong and thriving!
