Sample leadership communication announcing implementation of Healthy Together.

Dear Colleagues,

I am pleased to announce that [Health center name] has been selected to be one of only several health centers across the nation chosen to pilot Healthy Together, a truly exciting lifestyle change program for patients with, or at-risk for, diabetes.

Healthy Together is offered through a unique partnership between The National Association of Community Health Centers (NACHC), the Association of Diabetes Care & Education Specialists (ADCES), Wellocity (a National Diabetes Prevention Program platform that follows CDC specifications), [applicable PCA/HCCN name], and participating health centers such as [health center name].

Healthy Together is designed to improve the impact of diabetes prevention and control efforts using the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's (CDC) lifestyle curriculum, combined with patient self-care tools, and coaching by our trained health center lifestyle coaches. The lifestyle coaches will provide patients with education and support in healthy eating, physical activity, and stress management. Patients at-risk for diabetes and patients with diabetes will be invited to participate, together with supportive family or significant others.

[Health center name] is proud to announce the two staff individuals selected to serve as Lifestyle Coaches for this program!

- [Staff name], [Credential]-[Job Title]

Successful implementation of this program will be a team effort, so other staff (members of the care team, IT, and others) will also support project activities.

We are excited to launch this new initiative and welcome your input and suggestions in the process. In the meantime, please feel free to reach out to the team [contact info] if you have any questions.

Sincerely,
