

POPULATION HEALTH MANAGEMENT

RISK STRATIFICATION

ACTION STEPS

WHAT?

The process of segmenting your health center's patients into groups of similar complexity and care needs.

WHY?

Segmenting your patient population by risk allows your health center to target resources more efficiently and at a lower cost.

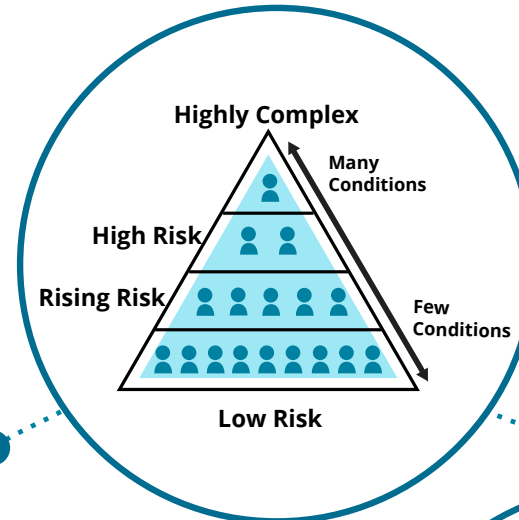

1 Compile a list of health center patients

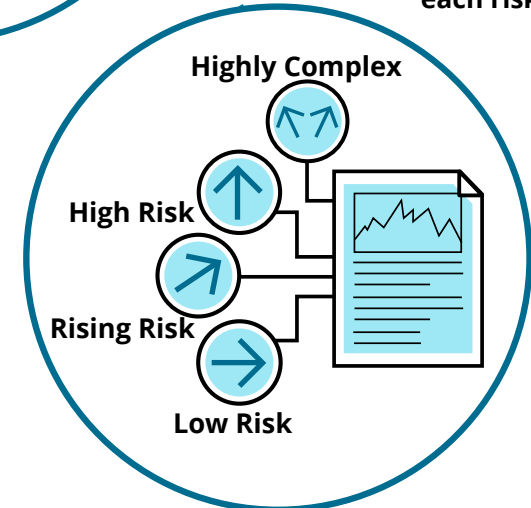

2 Sort patients by number of conditions

3 Stratify patients to segment the population into target groups

4 Design care models and target interventions for each risk group

● Infrastructure ● Care Delivery ● People

Risk Stratification: Utilize data on patient populations to target interventions for better health outcomes, with a better care experience, at a lower cost.