

Patty Lynn Wyatt

As a speaker, trainer, radio host and relational expert, Patty Wyatt has reached over 50,000 individuals covering topics on relational leadership, effective communication and attacking injustice.

As the founder of a successful leadership development radio program and podcast, Patty founded and implemented all operational processes including initial creative design, production, content distribution and content methodology. She guided this program from an initial start-up through growth phases. She crafted the company image, marketing strategies and distribution network for on-line content and training workshops that reached over 1,500 organizations across the U.S.

Patty is a motivated, talented trainer driven to inspire her audiences to pursue personal excellence. She creates a challenging and engaging learning environment that allows participants to change the way they address professional and personal challenges.
